WIRE Project

WIRE is a new project that provides resettlement support to women in the London area who are custody or serving Community Orders. WIRE will work closely with vulnerable women who may have children, complex needs, or who are street workers.

You will have a committed caseworker who will work with you providing information, practical support and advocacy.

WIRE will support you with:

- Help from the day of release
- Housing
- Access to children
- Accessing education, training and employment.
